

Constructionism 2018

Constructionism, computational thinking and educational innovation

Vilnius, Lithuania, August 21 to 25

Arūnas Poviliūnas

Faculty of Philosophy of Vilnius University
Lithuania

Arūnas Poviliūnas is Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy of Vilnius University and professor at the Institute of Social work and Sociology. He was a member of Lithuanian Research Council, from 2013 he is the Head of the National Commission of the Research Infrastructure. From 2005 A. Poviliūnas is a national coordinator and an expert at the European Social Policy Network that was established to provide the European Commission with independent information, analysis and expertise on social policies. A. Poviliūnas was leading numerous projects in the fields of participatory action research and social innovations, nowadays he coordinates the project “Introduction of STE(A)M Education in Vilnius University”. Areas of academic interests include sociology of knowledge and sociology of education. He has published more than 50 articles and 10 books on education, didactics of social sciences, and technologies of social innovations (for example, “Historical Consciousness and Didactics of History”, “Social Innovations for Rural Areas”, “Civic Education in Secondary Schools”, etc.).